FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

EPS SECURITY ADDS TECH SAVVY SECURITY CONSULTANT TO SERVE GRAND RAPIDS COMMERCIAL ACCOUNTS

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Oct. 13, 2010—Engineered Protection Systems, Inc. (EPS Security), West Michigan’s leading commercial and residential security company, has added former computer software development sales veteran Steven Law to its team of commercial property security consultants. Law will serve existing commercial accounts in Greater Grand Rapids while developing new business in the territory for the leading independent security company.

Law will operate from EPS Security headquarters at 750 Front Street in Grand Rapids. He reports to David Hood, director of sales and marketing for EPS.

An 18-year business development veteran, Law earned a bachelor’s degree from Grand Valley State University before working in various technical sales positions at Wolverine Worldwide and Ecolab Corp. Most recently, he served as a regional manager of sales for a leading West Mich. software development company.

“Steven has a tremendous track record in servicing accounts with complex technical needs,” said Hood. “The security industry is increasingly becoming a technical field, particularly with many of the systems we build for our commercial customers. Steven is going to excel in this arena.” Law is a West Michigan native. He lives in East Grand Rapids with his wife and two daughters.
